Leviton Acquires Berk-Tek, LLC

Acquisition cements Leviton as global end-to-end network cabling systems provider

Glenrothes, Scotland, UK, September 30, 2020 – Leviton today announced that it completed its acquisition of Berk-Tek, a leading U.S. manufacturer of fiber-optic and copper network cabling. The acquisition solidifies Leviton as a single-source manufacturer of end-to-end systems — including connectivity and cable — for customers around the world.

“Berk-Tek is a highly respected North American cabling company with exceptional manufacturing and product development capabilities,” said Daryoush Larizadeh, president and chief operating officer of Leviton. “By adding Berk-Tek to the Leviton family, we provide truly end-to-end system solutions to our customers, with full integration across engineering, manufacturing, and network expertise.”

“Leviton and Berk-Tek have a long history of delivering high performance cabling systems in North America through our strategic alliance,” said Bruno Filio, vice president of international business development for Europe and the Middle East at Leviton. “Customers across the globe now get the benefit of an enhanced and expanded copper and fiber-optic structured cabling offering from a single manufacturer, and Leviton’s dedicated sales force has all the tools needed to offer an even greater level of service and support.”

Berk-Tek, LLC is now a subsidiary of Leviton Manufacturing Co, Inc, reporting to the global Network Solutions Business Unit. Customers requesting Leviton connectivity and cables should contact the Leviton Glenrothes, Scotland location or their local salesperson for any questions or opportunities.

As a unified brand, Leviton Network Solutions provides a more consistent interface, clearer communication about products and creates an even smoother customer experience.
